

Vercingétorix

A real hero for a real typeface

Vercingétorix was a chieftain of the Arverni tribe; he united the Gauls in a revolt against Roman forces during the last phase of Julius Caesar's Gallic Wars.

Vercingetorix came to power in 52 BC; he raised an army and was proclaimed king at Gergovia. He immediately established an alliance with other Gaulish tribes, took control of their combined armies, and led them in Gaul's most significant revolt against Roman power. He won the Battle of Gergovia, in which 46 centurions and 700 legionaries died and more than 6,000 people were injured, whereupon Caesar's Roman legions withdrew.

However, a few months later, in the Battle of Alesia, the Romans besieged and defeated his forces and captured him. He was held prisoner for five years. In 46 BC, as part of Caesar's triumph, Vercingetorix was paraded through the streets of Rome and then executed. Vercingetorix is primarily known through Caesar's Commentaries on the Gallic War.

Be my guest. Ask Wikipedia.

This is one of the most important french historic heroes

He's
our man

Cool moustache, long wild hair and Gaul.

There's many weights for this font

Vercingétorix Italic

Vercingétorix Regular

Vercingétorix Demi

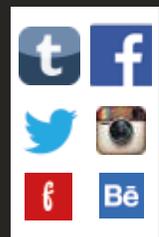

Vercingétorix Bold

And many others weights*

Pretty cool, isn't? It works amazing for display and awesome for text. Come on, give a try.

*All the weights are subject to sale. If you want all the family please don't hesitate in contact me.

Did you like this font?

Don't be shy. Ask here for Type Sailor

Do you want to buy?

